Special Circumstances: Virginia is a single mother. Her ex-husband lives in another city, and only occasionally sends money to help pay for the children. She has 3 children and 3 grand children living with her, along with a friend of her eldest son, who has nowhere else to go. The 8 of them live in a trailer that is about 10' x 12', and a little shack that is made out of scraps of wood. Cristian, Virginia's oldest daughter, is in the middle of a divorce. Her husband left to work in the states, and was going to send money so they could build their own house, but he left and never came back, and never sent any money. Carlos, was in school, but had to leave school to work so that he could help pay the bills. Virginia and Cristina work together making and selling Tamales, so they can still care for the children.
